Ceca Foundation Selects Additional Healthcare Partners for Third Quarter 2017

WASHINGTON, DC, October 30, 2017 – Ceca Foundation is pleased to announce three new Healthcare Partners who will participate in its innovative caregiver recognition and rewards program.

- Transitional Care Center Capitol City, located in southeast Washington, DC and headed by Gail Jernigan, is a 430-employee skilled nursing facility operated by Transitions Healthcare, LLC.
- Potomac Falls Health & Rehab, located in Sterling, VA and headed by Zoie Nikov, is a 150-employee rehabilitation center and part of the Commonwealth Care of Roanoke group.
- Unique Residential Care Center, located in northwest Washington, DC and headed by Regina Kim, is a 500-employee skilled nursing facility specializing in long-term care and rehabilitation.

“Our selections for the third quarter of 2017 were based on each healthcare facility’s commitment to recognize caregiver excellence as a primary driver of improving outstanding patient care,” said Matthew P. Lawlor, CEO of Ceca Foundation. “We are honored by their commitments and delighted to partner with them.”

Ceca operates the Ceca Awards Program and underwrites most funding requirements. Ceca provides Healthcare Partners with software enabling web- and mobile-based peer-to-peer recognition; all supporting services; and, cash awards for healthcare staff members who exemplify caregiving excellence. The Ceca Award program has recognized over 3,500 caregivers since 2013.
